REUTER'S TELEGRAMS.

THE HURRIED GERMAN RETREAT.

BRITISH CLOSELY PRESSING THE ENEMY.

MAGNIFICENT FRENCH ADVANCE ON THE SOMME FRONT.

London, September 7.
Writing to-day, Reuter's correspondent at British Headquarters states:—Prisoners say that much sedition literature is now freely circulating in the German ranks. For example, revolutionary and violently anti-Prussian leaflets are circulating among the Bavarians, urging the men not to fight. This doctrine, anyhow, is certainly being carried out. For example, three German Machine-Gun Companies surrendered without firing a shot, also the General commanding the 234th German Division complains of the number of men he is having to punish owing to self-inflicted wounds.

Americans Enter Muscourt.

London, September 8.
An American communiqué says:—Southward of the Aisne our troops entered Muscourt, where fifty prisoners were taken. Hostile counter-attacks in this sector were repulsed and our line slightly advanced. Two strong hostile raids in Woëvre were beaten off. In Alsace, a successful raiding party inflicted losses on the enemy.

Aerial Operations.

London, September 7.
Reporting on aviation, Field Marshal Sir Douglas Haig says:—We brought down eleven and drove down twelve enemy machines uncontrollable. Five British machines are missing. We dropped thirty-two tons during the day and night, heavily attacking railway connections at Arras, Lille, Douai, Denain, Cambrai and St. Quentin. All the night-fliers returned.

British Pressing the Germans.

London, September 7.
Field Marshal Sir Douglas Haig reports:—On the whole front southward of Havrincourt the German retreat continues under our close and constant pressure. We reached the line of Beauvois, Boisel and Havrincourt Wood. Our advanced detachments, in frequent encounters with the German rearguards, are taking prisoners and inflicting numerous casualties.

The stocks of coal and road metal and the quantities of other war material which have fallen into our possession prove the enemy's intention to remain in occupation of the Somme battlefields during the winter months and the hurried nature of the retreat that has been forced upon him.

We captured northward of Havrincourt a strong point called Thespoil Heap, on the west bank of the canal, due north and opposite Hermies, taking a number of prisoners and machine-guns.

General Mangin's Infiltration Tactics.

London, September 8.
Reuter's Paris correspondent says:—General Mangin continues to pursue infiltration tactics which gave him possession of Anisy-le-Château, bringing the reverse slope of the Chemin des Dames within artillery range. The booty in Lower Concy forest includes several heavy and medium batteries, countless machine-guns and mortars and hundreds of thousands of shells.

Cause of the German Retreat.

Washington, September 8.
The Chief of the Staff has issued a statement saying the German movement of a general retreat is primarily due to the British stroke on the Arras-Péronne road and the Franco-American advance on the Soissons Plateau. He emphasises that the Germans are sixty miles from Paris, compared with forty miles on August 15.

Magnificent French Thrust.

London, September 8.
A French communiqué states:—To-day's advance reached seven or eight kilometres in depth on the Somme front. The enemy, whose resistance has greatly increased, failed, despite all efforts, to prevent the passage of the St. Quentin Canal, which we crossed at Pont de Tugny and St. Simon after heavy fighting. We possess these places. We held the line running from the western outskirts of Vaux to Flauquier, Appencourt, east of Pont de Tugny, St. Simon, Avesnes, the western outskirts of Bussey, the Ham-Tergnier Railway, Amigny and Beris. The enemy has everywhere left vast quantities of material.

There is little change on the Ailette and Aisne front. We advanced north of Vauxillon, carried Cellis-sur-Aisne and repulsed two violent counter-attacks south of Laffaux Mill. The enemy's artillery is violently countering.

Extent of French Gains.

Paris, September 7.
A Havas message says:—Owing to their latest progress, the Allies have come into almost immediate contact with the Crozat Canal in its whole length between the Somme and the Oise. Between the Oise and Ailette, the centre of the Hindenburg Line has been reached at the outskirts of the St. Gobain wooded hills. By the capture of the plateau and Fort Oude-sur-Aisne, the Allies will soon threaten from the south the Chemin des Dames, which is already menaced in its western extremity by Laffaux.

British Make Further Progress.

London, September 8.
Field Marshal Sir Douglas Haig reports:—By nightfall yesterday we had taken Villevequi and St. Enille and gained possession of the greater part of Havrincourt Wood. There was local fighting yesterday evening and night eastward of Hermies and in the sector westward of Arras, without material change in the situation. Westward of Le Bassac our patrols further progressed in the enemy positions.

THE ITALIAN FRONT.

A Successful French Raid.

London, September 7.
An Italian official message says:—Southward of Anago, the French raid, enemy positions on Sismol, inflicting very heavy losses, and taking forty-seven prisoners. We captured the village of Sismol, in the Gargano region.

REUTER'S TELEGRAMS.

SERIOUS CHINESE SITUATION.

CANTON GOVERNMENT'S INTENTION TO TAKE OVER CUSTOMS.

Shanghai, September 7.
A Peking message dated the 4th inst. states:—The political outlook in China was rudely affected to-day by the news that the Canton Military Government has announced its intention within a few days to take over the Canton Customs, of which two Chinese would be appointed Directors, adding that if necessary Southern soldiery will be used to enforce the Southern resolve. The Military Government however dissociates himself from the latter determination. If persisted in this step will be really serious, as it will amount to the suicide of the Southern Government. A representative of the foreign Governments considers the affair already grave. He at first refused to believe that the embryonic Southern Government, having requested foreign recognition, would so unwisely hatter any chance there might otherwise have been of obtaining such recognition.

AIR RAID ON GERMANY.

British Airmen Again Busy.

London, September 7.
The Air Ministry reports:—Squadrons attacked two hostile aerodromes on the night of the 6th inst., causing fires. The weather hindered observation of results. All the British machines returned. Squadrons on the morning of the 7th inst. attacked railways at Ehrange and chemical works at Mannheim, obtaining good bursts, beside railway lines and eight direct hits and many other good bursts on chemical works, over two tons being dropped on Mannheim.

Aeroplanes met with fierce opposition in the Mannheim raid, fighting largely superior numbers before and after the attack. One squadron fought hard continuously for a distance of seventy miles before reaching its objective and the fight continued for seventy miles on the way back. We destroyed one aeroplane and drove down two uncontrollable. Four British machines are missing.

THE RUSSIAN SITUATION.

Trouble for the Bolsheviks.

Amsterdam, September 8.
The Cologne Gazette paints a gloomy picture of the Bolshevik prospects. It points out that fifty thousand Cossacks are mustering on the Don, mountaineers in the Caucasus are revolting and a thousand Cossacks and Czech-Slovaks are harrying the eastern front. Disturbances and terrorism are general.

A Tense Situation.

London, September 8.
A tense situation in Russia is revealed by the hurried departure of the Italian, American and Japanese Government representatives, accompanied by a number of their nationals, who have arrived at Stockholm homeward-bound.

The former chief of the Italian Mission asserts that M. Lenin and General Korniloff are dead and the Tsarina and her children probably alive.

M. Tshioherin has not yet replied to the British demand cabled on the 4th inst. regarding Capt. Ormice, whose body the Bolsheviks handed over to neutral protection after neutral pressure.

A contingent of Italian troops has arrived in North Russia.

THE SIBERIAN FRONT.

Japanese Occupy Khabarovsk.

Vladivostok, September 8.

No Trace of the Enemy.

London, September 8.
The Japanese advancing on Khabarovsk found no traces of the enemy south of the Iman Railway. Bridges at Tanga and Eman were not damaged, but small bridges were blown up. The enemy cavalry were defeated at Abagards, south-east of Manchuli, and driven northward.

PEACE BEFORE WINTER.

Turkish Grand Vizier's Views.

Amsterdam, September 8.
The Grand Vizier, Talat Pasha, interviewed by an Austrian paper, said nothing more is to be got from the war and its continuance is manifestly useless. Peace will come before the winter.

PROHIBITION IN AMERICA.

Breweries to Close in December.

Washington, September 8.
The Food Administration has decreed that all breweries must close on December 1, and beer and other malted drinks must disappear from the market as soon as the stocks then in hand are exhausted.

AERIAL BOMBARDMENTS IN ALBANIA.

London, September 7.
Italian naval and British aeroplanes carried out several bombardments on September 5-6 in Albania, inflicting loss and damage.

REPATRIATION OF PRISONERS.

Germany Obstructs an Agreement.

London, September 7.
The Foreign Office announces that the Austro-Hungarian Government has promised that the vessel used for the repatriation of British and Turkish war prisoners under the Bern Agreement shall not be attacked by their naval forces, but the German Government has not made the same promise, despite repeated representations at Berlin and Constantinople. There appears no doubt that the Turkish Government is willing to execute the agreement as speedily as possible, but the influence of Germany is being used to obstruct it, partly owing to a desire to perpetuate all causes of ill feeling between Turkey and Great Britain and partly owing to apprehensions of the effect on Turkish opinion of reports which will be brought by repatriated Turkish prisoners.

EARLIER TELEGRAMS.

THE GERMAN RETREAT.

Momentous Decision Pending.

London, Sept. 7.
Reuter's correspondent at the French Headquarters, writing on Friday, says: The Germans are retreating on the whole French battle-front. There the immediate objective is from St. Quentin, across the valley of the Oise, around the Forest of St. Gobain, to Laffaux, then past Malmaison to the Chemin-des-Dames, then from Juvigny across the Aisne at Berry-au-Bac, south-east to Rheims, and through the hilly country which has hitherto proved impervious to all assaults. The enemy has to-day from thirty to forty divisions in reserves, but his armies are being consumed at least at the rate of a division per day. The question is whether the Allies will allow him to reach his old line, except in disorder and in such a condition that he cannot stay there. This the next few days will decide. The French, progressing between the Somme and the Oise, practically captured the whole of Outrecoeur Massif and are now within three miles of Chauny-sur-Oise, where the Crozat Canal furnishes the enemy with a water-line, which, however, is liable to be turned from Offry, in the north. The French secured a good hold on the northern bank of the Ailette and are very close to the Hindenburg Line in the neighbourhood of the great St. Gobain Massif. The latter would be most difficult to capture frontally. Since August 8 the enemy has put in 101 divisions on the battle-front north and south of the Somme, also two dismounted cavalry divisions. Twenty-nine divisions have been engaged twice.

Desperate Fighting.

London, Sept. 6.
Reuter's correspondent at American Headquarters says: The amazing advance of General Mangin's left and centre in the past 24 hours is the direct result of actions earlier in the week. A French officer, who has seen the hottest fighting at Verdun, testifies that he has not witnessed more desperate valour than that shown by the Prussian Guards in the attempt to check the French advance towards the Chemin-des-Dames. Some of the Guards charged right up to the tanks which they tried to smash with the butts of their rifles. The fighting was nearly as desperate when Leully was captured, also Mont-de-Lombes where in all cases the Germans were fiercely aggressive and thereby piled up their casualties beyond all expectation. The French have captured Neuville, which is just below the ridge of the hill where there are through railway tunnels and looks across the head of the valley at Laffaux which our gun-fire has rendered uninhabitable. Despite their losses the Germans still hold the outworks of the hills about Vauxillon for the sake of their command over the Ailette Valley and for the cross-fire. They thus bring on our advance towards the Chemin-des-Dames. Fighting is still to be expected between Vauxillon and Laffaux.

Germans Deride Their Officers.

London, Sept. 6.
Reuter's correspondent writing on Friday morning from the British Headquarters says: The past twenty-four hours have been mainly devoted to a general mopping up on the fields of our late victories. A good deal of straggling fighting occurred especially in the vicinity of Moeuvres where we cleared the ridge. During yesterday, between the Scarpe and the Somme, we prisoners 300. The enemy is blowing up ammunition dumps in the areas behind Letesnil and Athies Wood and is evidently endeavouring to get back as quickly as possible to the Hindenburg Line. Our patrols are feeling their way along the crest north-east of Wulverghem. The enemy continue to show apprehension of a Tank surprise, and are also using their batteries at extreme range. A considerable number of enemy wounded have been shot in the back by their own officers. The attitude of most prisoners towards their own officers is a striking revelation of the present frame of mind of the German army. Not only do they refuse to salute, but sometimes openly jeer and deride them.

Germans Offer Small Resistance.

London, Sept. 6.
Reuter's correspondent at American Headquarters, telegraphing at 9 a.m., says: The Germans are across the Aisne without making any attempt to veil the retirement or exact the ordinary penalties for the Franco-American advance. Opposition between the Vesle and the Aisne was very soft. The machine-guns left behind proved quite inadequate to compromise the pace we were going. The enemy's shelling of roads and villages was also spasmodic and planless. The French further east experienced stiffer resistance, but the Americans everywhere gained the crest of hills and are able to overlook the long-promised land. There may be some sharper fighting to-day, if the last rearguards have not withdrawn across the river at night-time, but it is quite plain that in the American sector the ground on this side of the Aisne is going to be conceded.

The Germans Bolt.

London, Sept. 6.
Wiring in the afternoon Reuter's correspondent at French Headquarters says: The French are in full pursuit of the enemy across devastated country. General Debency's troops crossed the Somme in force all night from Epenancourt to Offry, while, southwards, General Humbert's army forced the Germans to throw up the sponge and bolt for the Hindenburg line along the whole front. The French have now passed Chauny and early in the day were close to Tergnier which is a mile from the place where the Hindenburg line crosses the Oise. On the right General Mangin's army has taken the height above Landricourt which gives us a view up the Ailette valley as far as Pinon. General Mangin's men this morning were fighting practically on the old line. There were engagements along the edge of the upper Concy forest and at Boziere farm which commands Barisis. The latter was the point of junction of the Franco-British fronts before the attack of 21st March.

Wiring the same night the correspondent says: The enemy resistance is increasing on the Petit-Barisis-Aisne front. The German artillery is most violent, nevertheless the French have appreciably advanced and are now fighting on the outskirts of the upper forest of Concy. In their centre the French have crossed the valley and the Soissons-Leon railway and gained a footing on Laffaux plateau which is an offshoot of Malmaison plateau. The French are now within three miles of the western extremity of Chemin-des-Dames. In the Concy forest, where the upper forest of Concy, the French in the morning captured the German resistance to the attack of the Hindenburg Line. They were captured by an extraordinary movement. The town was taken.

YESTERDAY'S TELEGRAM.

GERMAN WARNINGS AGAINST RUMOURS.

Amsterdam, September 6.
As an instance of the widespread disquiet in Germany the Koelnische Volks Zeitung draws attention to the fact that the Military Authorities have placarded Berlin, Breslau and other towns with a decree threatening with imprisonment people circulating disquieting rumours. The decree rebukes foolish chatterers who are circulating rumours devoid of real foundation which exaggerate the "transitory" success of the enemy and strengthen his resources. This agitation is calculated to shake our resolute confidence in final victory.

SWINDLING CHINESE WOMEN.

A Syndicate of Dice Gamblers.

A Chinese was charged at the Police Court this morning with swindling a Chinese woman of rings and other articles in a dice gamble.

Sergeant Murphy prosecuted, and said that the Police had everlastingly trouble with this sort of people. It seemed that there was a syndicate of them working and they swindled women of their bangles and other jewellery. The facts of the case were that the defendant was amongst one of those who gambled on a launch going to Yau-mat. A woman whose curiosity was aroused went and had a look at the game. She was asked to stake, but she refused. At last the men got her to stake her rings and it was alleged that the defendant manipulated the dice and announced to the woman that she had lost. When near the Yau-mat Wharf, the defendant jumped into a sampan and was chased by the woman, until finally he was arrested by a district watchman near the wharf. The Police had approached the launch people on the matter, but they were afraid to interfere, because they would be assaulted. In fact once they drove the men off but they assaulted the launch crew instead of going away. He could neither find the rings nor the dice; the Police had simply got hold of the defendant.

The complainant then gave evidence and corroborated the story given by Sergeant Murphy. His Worship discharged the defendant.

Heavily Fined.

At the Police Court this morning, before Mr. E. D. O. Wolfe, three Chinese women were charged with the possession of 90 teals of opium, valued at $1,080. Defendants pleaded not guilty. Evidence was adduced and defendants were fined $2,500 each, or four months' imprisonment, and the opium was confiscated.

For Liverpool Charities.
An anonymous gift of $50,000 has been made to the Liverpool Council of Voluntary Aid for distribution among Liverpool charities.

Frost Damage in Brazil.
Washington, July 11.—Tremendous damage from frost in Brazil was reported to-day in official dispatches. Unusual freezing temperatures in Sao Paulo have ruined the young coffee plantations, and reduced the production of the estimated fifty per cent of the normal until 1921. A majority of the plantations of sugar cane, castor beans, and fruits are destroyed.

Merge their War Work.
Residents of Far Rockaway have organized a community centre through which they will concentrate all their war work, says a New York paper. All the patriotic organizations of the district will belong to the community centre, which will be managed by an executive committee and a conference board. When a campaign is made by any of the various organizations belonging to the centre, the other organizations will assist in putting through the drive.

Change at Museum of Safety.
Mr. Arthur H. Young has resigned his position as director of the American Museum of Safety, which position he has held since January, 1917, to take charge of the employee relations department of the International Harvester Company. He will still be connected with Museum affairs, though no longer in charge of them, for this has been elected vice-president, to succeed the late Dr. Frederic R. Hutton. E. M. Little, who has been a trustee of the Museum, will take Mr. Young's place as director.

Baseball President Commissioned.
Mr. David L. Falz, president of the Baseball Players Fraternity, has been appointed physical director and athletic instructor to the United States Aviation Corps with the rank of first lieutenant. He has been ordered to report at Mineola, L. I. Falz was regarded as one of the best football and baseball players among eastern collegiates while a student at Brown University, and later was one of the best of the American League outfielders when playing with the New York Yankees.

No More Beefless Days.
The Federal Food Board has issued an announcement abolishing beefless days in hotels, restaurants, and other public eating places, and permitting beef to be served every day in the week, reports the New York Evening Post. The only remaining restriction is that the serving of beef be confined to one meal each day of not more than four consecutive hours duration. The latter regulation does not apply to beef by-products, such as liver, kidneys, tongue, etc., which may be served at any time. Food dealers of the Bronx and Brooklyn are adopting the plan of Manhattan dealers of closing their stores at 8 p.m. The movement will probably be extended to Queens and Richmond, according to an announcement issued by the Federation of Delicatessen Dealers and Caterers of the City of New York.

Comforts for U. S. Troops.
An announcement is made that the Knights of Columbus Committee on War Activities has let contracts in France for the construction of fifty barracks along the western front for American soldiers. Each building will be 100 feet long and 30 feet wide, says the New York Evening Post. William J. Mulligan, chairman of the committee, said the Knights plan to have established before September 15 at least 150 units in the American sector. These places will be open to American soldiers of all religious denominations. A call for 2,000 secretaries to take charge of the barracks has been issued. Knights of Columbus also speak with kitchen trailers will appear in the American sector on the western front within a few days. It is announced that the department will be placed in charge of the barracks with the American troops.

GENERAL NEWS.

T. A. Edison's Son Enlists.
William Leslie Edison, son of Thomas A. Edison, the inventor, and honorary chairman of the Navy Consulting Board, enlisted recently in a tank division of the United States Army and left immediately for Fort Slocum.

German Empress on Peace.
The Hague, July 8.—Germany repeatedly has manifested unmistakably her readiness for peace, which, however, never has been entertained by the opposing Powers. This is the reply of the German Empress to a letter written by Mrs. Depong, wife of the Dutch Minister of War, on behalf of Dutch mothers to the consorts of belligerent sovereigns and heads of states concerning peace.

Would Fly the Atlantic.
Forty army fliers, attached to the First Provisional Wing, Mineola, L. I., recently filed with Major O. K. Rhinehart a petition asking that one of their number be permitted to make a trial trip to cross the Atlantic by airplane. The men are confident that an attempt to fly the Atlantic will be made before the summer is over. Major Rhinehart, commenting on the proposed flight, said he thought it feasible, and that it was his opinion the large Caproni machines could make the flight from Newfoundland to Ireland without stop.

Calcutta Corporation.
The administration report of Calcutta Corporation for the last year shows that the financial position of the Corporation continues to grow stronger every year in spite of heavy loans which have fallen due for repayment and depreciation of securities. The receipts were 125 lakhs, while the expenditure was under 111 lakhs. During the last three years the surplus of assets over liabilities has increased by nearly fifty lakhs. During the last year the health of Calcutta was remarkably good, the death rate being 23.8 per thousand compared with 24.7 seven in 1916, the previous lowest on record.

Boy Scouts' Good Work.
About 880,000 feet of black-walnut timber, wanted by the U. S. Government for the manufacture of certain airplane parts, is discovered daily by the Boy Scouts of America in their search through the country's forests, it was announced recently at Scout national headquarters in New York. The statement is based on information received from the Forest Service of the Department of Agriculture. Black walnut has been found in thirty-three States. Word has been sent to the 452,000 Scouts and Scout officials that their canvass should be complete, "so that it will be unnecessary to repeat it even if the war should last five years."

Launch Owners' Trick.
We recently mentioned that the Harbor Department had been making investigations into the condition of the boiler pressure of launches playing on the Menam above Bangkok, says a Bangkok paper. In connection with this the owners of two launches, the Port Said and Subbbhal, Mahomedans in each case, have been prosecuted for using safety valves that had been tampered with in order to make use of a greater pressure of steam than that permitted by their licenses. In each instance a penalty of one hundred ticals was inflicted, while both the boats were stopped from plying on the waterways for a period of one month and the drivers of the engines had their certificates taken away.

Death Sentences in China.
The Ministry of War, says the Peking Daily News, has issued a circular instruction to all the Tachens and military commanders to the effect that of late in the execution of the sentence of death pronounced upon criminals by the military authorities of the provinces, the high military officers have always neglected to observe the right procedure, and have only submitted a report to the Ministry after the execution of criminals. Hereafter all the Tachens, Occupation Commissioners, and Divisional and Brigade Commanders will not be allowed to execute criminals before obtaining the approval of the Ministry, as provided for in the 39th Article of the Regulations governing the trial of the Military Court.

A NOTE OF WARNING.

Inspiring and exhilarating as the continued Allied successes on the Western Front are, it is possible that they may create a situation not without its dangers to the Entente nations. We have many times seen how the Germans launch a peace offensive when things are going well with them, but it is equally possible that they may follow the same course when the outlook takes on a gloomier aspect, and in matters of the kind it is well to be thoroughly forewarned. The idea of a peace offensive when the military situation is superficially good is to secure the best terms possible; the object of a similar move when a reverse position exists would be to stop the fighting before fresh disasters are inflicted. In each instance, such a step would rest on a recognition of the fact by the Germans that they cannot obtain a decision by force of arms. And it is because that fact is now being well driven home that we need to be on our guard against specious enemy proposals for a cessation of hostilities.

During last year especially, the Germans were very free in their references to the possibility of a settlement, and one of the most typical efforts was the open letter from the notorious Theodor Wolff to Professor Forster, which is worth recalling just now. This commentator said those responsible for answering the question as to how we are to get peace must regard both sides with an impartial and unclouded sense of justice. They must aim at a peace of understanding with all opponents equally, and a programme must be drafted which shall transcend the present system of Alliances and trace the ground-lines and practical functions of a community of national interests. Those responsible must treat all sides with equal love, as a father loves all his children; and one of the first things necessary is that no bitterness must be left behind. The writer added that the world can only attain quietness and a happy future through such a peace by understanding as shall not satisfy any brutal policy of force and shall not leave a sense of humiliation behind it. These are very plausible and very attractive sentiments, and we shall probably soon be hearing more of this kind of hypocrisy, served up for the special delectation of those pacifist cranks who are to be found in every country and who may be counted upon to swallow the sugar-coated pill. But what is wrong with them? This is the wrong about them—they depend absolutely on a certain assumption which is false. Equally all round pre-supposes that all are in the same case, that all are equally guilty or not guilty, that all have done the same things. There is a certain superficial look of equity about such proposals which attracts certain types of minds, and the Germans will struggle to the uttermost to get this assumption accepted. But what must be held steadily in view when, sooner or later, the peace offensive takes on its really dangerous form, is that both sides are not equally guilty and have not done the same things.

No one in the world, except the few who are two self-opinionated to study evidence, doubts that Germany forced this war on an unwilling world. There is no need to catalogue the crimes and brutal cruelties of the Germans, but there is, even in this hour of our triumph, every need not to forget them. Justice does not mean the same thing for each; it means the right thing for each. That is why we cannot accept the German idea of a status quo ante bellum. There is a new thing in the world that was not there in 1914—the damnable cruelties and outrages which the Germans have introduced in this war. A peace calculated to spare Germany all bitterness would only gloss over the trouble, more, it might well say, of such bitterness on the rest of the world—that civilization itself would go down in shame. These are some of the reasons why we need to be on our guard against any cry for peace which the Germans may fling up in the moment of their distress on the battle field. We have more to do than to win battles before we can consent to talk of smothering our swords. We must first and foremost render the enemy impotent to bring a second calamity on the world. That is what the Allies have done and all "pleaded" themselves to do. That is why they have not yet given an inch to German suggestions for peace or any head to any double-edged "letters" which only serve to put the German Funk.

The favorable anxiety of the German militarists to realize the declining morale of the people is evidenced by the "Proclamation" issued by von Hindenburg warning the masses against "insane rumours" and expressing open fear lest the German mind be poisoned by Allied propaganda. That the German populace is much upset by the Allied triumphs is clear from the statement in the Neue Zeitung that the past week has been an inglorious one, due to the display of "nervousness" among the people. In other words, the Germans are getting in a state of utter funk, and it is the special task of Hindenburg and the like to attempt to stay the rot. We cannot regard Hindenburg as anything else than a born humbug, when he talks about Germany being strong enough to force peace in the West. If that is really the case, the most obvious resort is: Why does Germany not do it? We presume that the Huns are not really fond of being thrashed or that they find pleasure in being thrashed. Then why do they not force this wonderful peace? Their "strength" is being displayed by a continuous and ignominious retreat. And they will go on retreating until peace comes by Allied, and not by German, force.

Violated Pledges. It is rather a piece of news, but not altogether surprising, knowing Germany as we do by now, that she has again been up to her old piratical tricks within the so-called barred zone. Not many details are to hand, but it is perfectly apparent that the Huns have again been breaking his pledges. It was he who set up the barred zone, and yet, just when it suits his fall purpose, he sends his submarines across the line and neutral vessels still paying him the compliment of retaining a shred of gentlemanly respect for the rules of warfare, have gone about their occupations feeling secure. That this was false security we now know, and in future we shall require something more than pledges from Germany before we can feel safe.

Of course, it is characteristic of the Hun that, not satisfied with violating agreements, he must always be pilfering. There would not be much fun for German submariners if they could not work the buccanier oracle. In what should be peaceful waters, the submarines pop up its periscope and a horde of savages—the scum of Germany, or they would not be parties to wanton murder—are let loose on peaceful Dutch fishing craft. The crew of these vessels are brow-beaten, the ship is stripped of anything valuable that can conveniently be carried away, and then what is left is sent hurtling to the bottom. All this happens within the barred zone, and, as we are not confident of any good results being obtained from the Dutch protest to the German Government, we hope that measures for enforcing the recognition of these pledges will soon be found.

Weather Records. While we have all been agreeably conscious of an abnormally cool August, few of us were prepared for the interesting statements issued by the Director of the Observatory showing that in two respects the Colony's past meteorological records have been broken. We are informed that the mean temperature and the total sunshine were the lowest on record, while only on one previous occasion has there been a more rainy August. These are interesting facts and will possibly set the weather-wise thinking of our readers for the unusual conditions. If we had been never the fighting zone, we should probably have a deal about the effect of heavy gunfire on the atmospheric conditions, but even the most ingenious meteorologist will scarcely associate Hongkong's cool August with the war operations. But it is August has been colder than usual, September promises to restore the average, for the past few days have been about the hottest we have had during the season. The summer is evidently not over yet, though most of us are prepared to think the worst of the weather.

DAY BY DAY.

THE LUXURY OF DOING GOOD SURPASSES EVERY ENJOYMENT.

To-morrow's Anniversary. To-morrow is the 20th anniversary of the assassination of the Empress of Austria.

The Dollar. The opening rate of the dollar on demand to-day was $6.77/16d.

Typhoon Warnings. The following telegram was received by the American Consulate General, Hongkong, from the Manila Observatory at 11 p.m. yesterday:—"Typhoon in about 125 degrees Long. E. and 21 degrees Lat. N., direction unknown."

No Appearance. John Boes, a European, who was charged with being drunk and disorderly in Connaught Road Central early on Sunday morning, failed to put in an appearance at the Police Court this morning when his name was called. His Worship estranged the bail of $5.

Lottery Tickets. An old Chinese was charged at the Police Court this morning, before Mr. J. B. Wood, with being in unlawful possession of lottery tickets. Inspector Kent prosecuted. Defendant pleaded not guilty, and said he was entrusted with these tickets by a travelling trader. His Worship fined him $50, or one month's hard labour.

Broke into a Store-room. A Chinese was charged at the Police Court this morning, before Mr. J. B. Wood, with unlawfully breaking into a store room in the basement floor of No. 43, High Street with intent to commit a felony. Sgt. Pain prosecuted. A Chinese gave evidence of finding the defendant in the store room, and this was also corroborated by a Chinese girl. His Worship sentenced defendant to one month's hard labour.

A Lottery House. A Chinese was charged at the Police Court this morning, before Mr. J. B. Wood, with keeping and conducting a lottery house. Inspector J. Grant prosecuted and tendered a book, lottery tickets, slips of paper and some other articles used in lotteries. Defendant pleaded not guilty. Inspector Grant gave evidence to the effect that he raided the house and found the articles produced. His Worship fined the defendant $250, or three months' hard labour.

The Old, Old Story. A Chinese was charged at the Police Court this morning, before Mr. J. B. Wood, with being in unlawful possession of 200 rounds of ammunition. Sgt. Murphy prosecuted, and said that the defendant was arrested by a district watchman near the Police station at Yau-mai. At the Police station he said that he was asked by a man to meet him at a tea house in Yau-mai. The defendant went and the man asked him to carry a parcel to Hongkong. He did so and was arrested, but declared that he could not find the man. His Worship fined him $250, or three months' hard labour, and ordered the ammunition to be confiscated.

Possession of Jewellery. A Chinese was charged at the Police Court to-day with being in unlawful possession of jewellery valued at $200. Inspector P. O'Sullivan prosecuted, and said that the man had just returned from hospital, suffering from fever. He had very slight fever at present. A Chinese constable said he saw the defendant on Saturday, and, being suspicious, he stopped him, enquiring at the same time where he was going to. He replied that he was not going anywhere. The constable then asked him what he had in his possession. Defendant replied "Nothing," but witness saw a small packet with some gold articles in it. He questioned the defendant as to the origin of the articles, but defendant said that they were given to him by someone. When asked if he could find the man, he said he could not, whereupon the constable arrested him. Inspector O'Sullivan informed his Worship that he could not find the man who owned the articles. Defendant said that the man was an Englishman and that he was a Chinese. His Worship sentenced the case all

ALIEN ENEMIES SUED.

Partners of Siemens and Company.

His Lordship the Chief Justice, Sir William Ross Davis, K. C., sitting in Original Jurisdiction this morning, heard a claim by the Hongkong Central Estate Limited, against O. S. Ruckmeyer, Hans August Siebe and E. Siebert (partners in Siemens and Coy) for the sum of $6,275.45.

The statement of claim read as follows:—The plaintiffs claim is for rent due from the defendants to the plaintiffs in respect of certain offices on the ground and first floor in the north-east corner of Queen's Buildings in the City of Victoria, Hongkong, whereof the defendants became and were tenants of the plaintiffs under an agreement in writing dated 14th July 1913 for five years from the first day of July 1913, at the rent of $750 per calendar month. The tenants had, by the said agreement, the option of renewing the agreement for a further two years from the date of its expiry, of which said option they availed themselves by letter dated 31st December 1913. The plaintiffs also claim a proportion of the expenses of the lift in the said building, which said proportion the defendants by the said agreement agreed to pay.

Mr. E. D. Potter (instructed by Mr. W. E. L. Shenton, of Messrs. Deacon, Locker, Deacon and Harston) was for the plaintiffs, defendants not making an appearance.

Mr. Potter said that this was a claim by the Hongkong Central Estate, Ltd., for the sum of $6,275.45, being the amount of rent due and a proportion of the expenses of the lift of the premises occupied here by the three defendants, who were alien enemies and who at all material times were partners in the firm of Messrs. Siemens and Coy., formerly carrying on business in this Colony. The defendants were at present resident in Shanghai and although served with notice of these proceedings they had not chosen to appear and defend the action. They not only received notice of the proceedings in the ordinary way, but, in order that they might have every opportunity of taking the necessary steps to protect their interests in the proceedings, his Lordship had directed the Registrar of the Court to write to the defendants and point out to them that they were entitled to appear and to defend the action. On July 19th this year, in pursuance of his Lordship's direction, the Registrar addressed the following letter to the defendants:—"With reference to your application of the 1st inst. I am directed by His Honour the Chief Justice to point out that it is open to you to employ any Hongkong solicitor to represent you in this action and to inform you that the case has been postponed until 9th August, 1918, at 10.30 a.m., in order to enable you to do so. In default of an appearance being entered for you before that date, the case must be heard ex parte."

His Lordship said that was in reply to their application. Mr. Potter resumed that all he was concerned with at the moment was to show that the defendants had had every facility granted them to defend the action. He would come to their reasons later, but one very excellent reason for him was that they had no defence.

Mr. Potter read an affidavit by Mr. Shelton Hooper, indicating how the amount due was arrived at, and stating further that the assets of the defendants in Hongkong had proved insufficient to satisfy the secured creditors, and the plaintiffs in this action were necessitated.

Mr. Potter also dealt with a letter from the defendants wherein they submitted five points on which they claimed that the proceedings should be stopped. The defendants first point was that the plaintiffs had not shown that the defendants were partners in the firm of Siemens and Coy. at the time when the action was brought.

Potter said on this point that, of course, the defendants, as partners in the firm, were liable.

His Lordship agreed, adding that defendants were sued in their own names, not as Siemens and Coy.

The second point was that the defendants had never received any report of the liquidation and had no knowledge of what arrangements were made between the liquidators and the plaintiff. That, said Mr. Potter, was answered by the affidavit of Mr. Wright, of Shanghai, who said in connection with these same proceedings when they were brought in Shanghai recently and referred to Hongkong, that the defendants had been supplied with the report. The third point was that the defendants having been expelled from Hongkong and having no knowledge of what the liquidators had done and no means of verifying the statement of claim, could not answer, admit, nor deny the claim. Mr. Potter commented that they were entitled as they had been advised, to instruct a solicitor here. It was a simple matter of balance of rent, and there would have been no difficulty about denying it if denial were possible.

The next point was that defendant could not appear personally and could not instruct a solicitor, because the action concerned the firm of Siemens and Coy. of which they had been deprived of control in consequence of the enforced liquidation. Mr. Potter said he could not see the force of the point. Defendants were partners when the firm did exist.

The last was that the claim of plaintiffs arose owing to the war and involved questions which might be adjusted on the conclusion of peace. Mr. Potter said that that was outside His Lordship's cognisance.

In giving judgment, His Lordship said that in this action the defendants were sued and service was duly effected upon them in Shanghai. They communicated with the Court through the Registrar, objecting to the action being proceeded with and giving certain reasons. The Court, in the exercise of its discretion, communicated through the Registrar with these alien enemies and advised them that they could be properly represented by a solicitor in the Court. They declined to do so for the reasons which the learned Counsel had referred to. He, (the Chief Justice), had only to say that in his opinion there was no legal reason which would justify him in not allowing the law to proceed in due course. The question which defendants had raised as to the matter being subsequently the matter of international arrangement was entirely beyond the cognisance of the Court. The only ground which would justify the Court in staying the matter was laid down in the Alien Enemies Ordinance, such as a case where it was impossible for the alien enemy to give proper instructions presumably because he was somewhere away from the jurisdiction of the Court or somewhere where he could not be reached. In that case the Court had power to stay the action during the state of war. That was not so in this case. The three defendants in question had been duly served, had been in communication with the Court, and had declined to recognise its jurisdiction, putting in no appearance and taking no steps. His duty was quite clear. He gave judgment for plaintiffs.

House-breaking Admitted.

A Chinese was charged at the Police Court this morning, before Mr. J. B. Wood, with unlawfully breaking into No. 5, Landale Street and stealing a number of stockings. Sgt. Cockle prosecuted, and in outlining the case said that the defendant was allowed to go into the house and sleep there over-night. On Saturday night, he broke into the place and stole the stockings. A friend, suspected him, and as the result of investigations by the detective he was arrested last night. Defendant pleaded guilty and said that he was 19 years old and had been in Hongkong for some months. He said he had the money and he would give it back and he would go to the United States.

His Lordship sentenced the case all

TODAY'S MISCELLANY.

Nine years ago M. Louis Blériot flew the Channel in an aeroplane, the first man to achieve the feat. To-day we are talking of British aeroplanes, constructed in American factories, flying from the United States to the battlefields in France. We shall not know until after the war what progress aviation really has made. Twelve years ago the record, apart from the Wright Brothers, was held by M. Santos-Dumont, with a flight of 230 yards. Since then aeroplanes have fed a garrison at Kut, provisioned and munitioned regiments in isolated positions, and flown to Constantinople.

Mr. Bruce-Joy, whose bust of Viscount Morley was unveiled recently, determined when a little boy to be a sculptor. His mother was full of artistic tastes, and she showed him some of the great works of art in Continental galleries, thus firing his youthful ambitions. Mr. Bruce-Joy's brother is Mr. George W. Joy, the artist, whose historical pictures are so familiar. In his studio at Hindhead the sculptor works with vigour undiminished by a long and busy career. It was with a walk at Hindhead that Lord Morley concluded his recent volumes of Recollections.

The barbers' saloons on board the American warships interested the King recently, as they will interest every British sailor. Men of all grades in the Navy must must wear either moustache and close-cropped beard, or shaves clean. Up to the 'seventies they were permitted to wear whiskers, without moustaches, and the shaving to pattern caused more cursing in the Navy, Queen Victoria was told, than anything else. She was asked to consent to a reform, to let the men grow full beards and moustaches if they chose.

A nice Navy of old gentlemen our tars would have looked had the Queen had her wish. She desired that they should wear beards and no moustaches! Moustaches for sailors, she said, "have rather a soldier-like appearance." However she agreed to beard and moustaches, though it was a little supererogatory, when dealing with the smartest, proudest Navy in the world, to add that the beard should be kept short "and very clean."

It would be interesting to learn the official reason for the change in colour of the stamp on the registered envelope. The new value is 3½, i.e., 2d. registration and 1½ postage. The colour is blue and the same as that of the Victorian era when the stamp on the registered envelope was 2d. for registration only, and an extra stamp had to be affixed for postage. The old colour of the 3½ stamp on the envelope was the correct international one for the 1911 stamp.

This is the day of the elder men. Mr. Balfour celebrated his 70th birthday recently by an important speech on Serbia, while at the same hour Lord Morley, who is on the threshold of 80, was making a speech on India. Like the Rev. Frederick Hastings, who preached his 80th birthday sermon recently, Mr. Balfour defied all the doleful medical prophecies of his youth. One recalls, too, how when 30 years ago he took up the Irish Secretaryship, his friends blantly declared that the work would be fatal.

Chinese Professor Honoured.

Dr. Luis P. Uyohistin, editor of the Philippine Chinese Advocate and an alumnus of the University of the Philippines, has been appointed by the board of regents of that institution, as lecturer in Chinese at the University of the Philippines. Dr. Uyohistin is a native of the Philippines and has been in the Philippines for many years. He is a member of the Philippine Bar and has been practicing law for many years. He is also a member of the Philippine Chamber of Commerce and Industry.

ROLL OF HONOUR.

Death of Lieut W. H. Stapleton.

It is with deep regret that we record the death of Lieut. W. H. Stapleton, attached to the 3rd. Bn. Bedford Regiment, his father, Mr. F. W. Stapleton, of the Victoria Dispensary, having received a cable from the War Office that he has been killed in action. Only on Thursday last, Mr. Stapleton received a letter from his son, whose demise will be much regretted by many friends in the Colony.

The deceased officer, who was only 20 years of age, was born in Amoy, and educated at Weihai-wei and afterwards at Framlingham College, in England. He came back to the Colony early in 1918 and secured a position in Messrs. W. G. Humphreys and Co. He was an active sportsman, his services in Kowloon Cricket Club's eleven being well remembered. He was also a good tennis player, and in all the circles that knew him he was well liked. He was a member of the Artillery Company in the volunteers. In March 1917 he was one of a small party which left here for active service. He joined the Artists' Rifles and was subsequently transferred to the Officers Cadet Battalion. He completed his training at Gales Camp (Ayrshire) and was gazetted in March this year, leaving for France in April. Much sympathy will be felt for his parents in their sorrow.

ARE YOU GETTING OLD BEFORE YOUR TIME?

Consider Your Present State.

If you feel a growing dissatisfaction with life, and ill-health seems to threaten you, without the symptoms of any specific disease showing, your nerves are probably under-nourished because your blood is thin.

Take a moment to examine your own case. Have you lost the ability to make a quick decision and take prompt action whenever necessary, or do you worry and hesitate in indecision and consume an undue amount of time over things that you need to do quickly? Are you prematurely old?

Don't let the arteries in your brain get hard; don't let thin blood starve your nervous system. Proper diet for the first and a good tonic such as Dr. Williams' pink pills for the second are what you need.

The blood is the cause of many troubles. The nerves become under-nourished and neuritis is a frequent accompaniment of anaemia. Good digestion without rich red blood is almost impossible, and suffers from anaemia are frequently dyspeptics.

The purpose of Dr. Williams' pink pills is to build up the blood. They do this one thing and they do it well. For this reason they are an invaluable remedy in diseases arising from bad or deficient blood, as rheumatism, nervous dyspepsia, neuritis, after-effects of influenza, and many nervous disorders. Begin your own rejuvenation to-day. Assault Case.

A Chinese was charged at the Police Court to-day with assaulting a foreman of coolies. Inspector Sim stated that the assault was the result of a quarrel over coolie hire. Complainant said he engaged coolies for defendant. The coolies worked half a day. Defendant hired men to assault complainant. Sergeant Cooke said he was on patrol duty when heard shouts. He ran to the scene and found complainant lying in a pool of blood. Complainant told him that the defendant had assaulted him. He arrested defendant in a house in the vicinity. Further evidence was given and defendant was fined $15, or a month's imprisonment.

CRICKET.

Royal Engineers v. C.R.C.

The first cricket match of the season took place on Saturday, when the Royal Engineers and the Chinese Recreation Club met in friendly rivalry. The result was a comfortable win for the Engineers by 64 runs. Scores:—

A CINEMA STAR.

Sheldon Lewis and Daly's Theatre.

"Perhaps it was the schooling I received in old Daly's Theatre," said Sheldon Lewis, who is a featured member of the cast in "The Hidden Hand," the Pathe serial which will be shown at the Victoria Theatre on Thursday, in which Miss Doris Kenyon is being starred.

The old Daly Theatre was as much a dramatic school as it was a theatre. In the company we all did character work—there were no heroes and no villains—no hard work for any of us to approach the high standard Mr. Daly had set and it was difficult to obtain his seal of approval on our work.

Mr. Lewis has the reputation of having played more parts on the legitimate stage than any other actor in America. These parts number above five hundred. In the halcyon days of stock in New York City, Mr. Lewis was a favourite. He supported Ada Rehan at Daly's Theatre in Shakespeare comedies such as "The Taming of the Shrew," and "As you Like It," and in Sheridan's "School for Scandal." After Mr. Daly's death he went on tour with Ada Rehan and played leads opposite that famous actress.

Mr. Lewis was a member of the company of the first endowed play-house in America. This was assembled for the New Theatre in Chicago four years before the New York project became an accomplished fact.

Mr. Lewis is playing the part of Dr. Scarley in the mystery serial, "The Hidden Hand." He greatest screen parts have been the Clutching Hand in "The Exploits of Elaine," and the Iron Claw in the Pathe serial of the same name. His first screen work was in a Pathe production and he says it feels like home to work under the Pathe banner again.

CANTON NEWS.

Our Canton correspondent writes as follows:—

Short of Funds.
The Military Government, owing to shortage of funds for administrative purposes, has decided to issue four denominations of bonds, of $10, $5, $1 and 50 cents respectively, to the amount of $10,000,000, and requests the commercial community to purchase the people to purchase the same.

Banknote Redemption.
The agreement for the loan of $1,000,000 from the Bank of Formosa has been signed and $700,000 will be paid over to-day, and the balance in a few days. It is reported that this loan is clearly stated in the agreement to be for the redemption of Bank of China's notes only, and it may be extended to $2,000,000 if necessary. Another report states that the Hongkong Government has offered to purchase the gunboat Kwong-Hoi; therefore the notes, which were 25 per cent. discount a few days ago, are now only 10 per cent. discount.

The Attempt on General Li.
Of the 15 arrests in connection with the attempted assassination of General Li Lieh-iwan, eight have been liberated, while the remainder are undergoing a vigorous trial in which General Li himself takes part.

The Attack on Amoy.
An official from the Eastern front states that the Canton troops are attacking Amoy from four directions.

Japanese Steamer Sunk.
The Sumida-maru, 1,777 tons, of the Tokyo Kaishu Kaisha, sank in a storm on the night of the 7th instant at a point 20 miles south of Oshima, Kiabu. Of the crew of 36, 15 swam to shore, but the other 21 are missing. The sunken ship was a wooden vessel built this year, and was en route from Suminoe, Saga Prefecture, to Yokohama with a cargo of coal.

Entrance to the Whangpoo —Lismore Flats.

Notice is given that the Lismore Light-boat, moored off the northern edge of the Lismore Flats, southern side of the entrance to the Whangpoo, Yangtze River, has been discontinued. In its place a black buoy, gas-lighted, with a black spherical daymark surmounting the lantern, has been established. This buoy will exhibit an occulting white light every 8 seconds, thus:—Light 4 seconds, Eclipse 4 seconds.

Japanese Shipping Market.

The chartering or commandeering of steamers by the Japanese Government has affected in no way the shipping market which remains rather flat, contrary to expectations. The steamers so far chartered by the Government have been plying to and from, China ports, Formosa, Dairen, Otaru, Bombay, Australian ports, etc., and such services as have had a considerable tonnage drawn upon are feeling it more or less. A few of the lines have not yet been reinforced sufficiently to make good for the withdrawal. However, things will be restored to their normal groove in the course of two months or so. Only a few charter parties have been concluded by the N. Y. K. and the S. S. K. each with the intention to make up for the tonnage withdrawn temporarily, which have been practically the only deal on the charter market for some two weeks past.

Shanghai Freight.

Messrs. Wheelock and Co.'s freight market report, dated Shanghai, 25th August, states:—The situation in our freight market is as follows:—To United Kingdom:—No change. To United States:—There is very little cargo offering on this berth and it is difficult to get licenses for what little there is;—we are afraid this state of affairs is likely to continue until the American Government issues licenses more freely than they are doing at present. There is still no definite news as to rail-rates Overland. Coastwise:—The demand from Northern Ports continues fairly strong and the regular liners are being kept fully occupied otherwise our Northern coasting trade remains steady;—reports from the South indicate a dull market and a weakening in rates all round. Saigon to Hongkong having been done as low as $1.07 per picul and Bangkok to Hongkong at $0.90. As regards time chartering, owners' ideas of rates are still very considerably in advance of what charterers are prepared to pay in view of the depressed rates now ruling of trip charters.

Merchant Seamen and Extra Postage.

The Council of the Mercantile Marine Service Association recently approached the Government pointing out that under present regulations postage is payable at the inland rate of one penny per ounce by sailors serving on his Majesty's ships abroad and any auxiliary ship whose name appears in the Admiralty list, but that the privilege does not apply to seamen of the Mercantile Marine—an invidious distinction between the two branches of the sea forces which creates dissatisfaction in the latter profession. The Government state, in reply, that the differentiation is not dictated by difference in the conditions of service but mainly because arrangements exist under which letters for or from his Majesty's ships in home or foreign waters can be specially dealt with, and under which, therefore, the right of any letter to a reduced rate of postage can be checked. It is pointed out that no such arrangements exist in respect to merchant ships, nor is there any reasonably practicable method of making them. The association hope, however, that the matter may be brought up again and some scheme formulated which will place the merchant seaman on the same footing in this respect as his brothers of the fighting forces.

EARLIER TELEGRAMS.

THE GERMAN RETREAT.

The New Line.

London, Sept. 8.
Reuter learns that since this morning we advanced on a front of twelve miles and a depth of three astride the Amiens-St. Quentin road. Our present line runs west of Templeux, Tincourt-Boucy and Bouvincourt thence astride Esneux, Monchy-la-Gache and Quivieres.

North of the Oise the French gained possession of the whole of Autreville massif. The situation is developing according to anticipations and the German retreat is proceeding towards the Hindenburg line.

German Vandalism.

London, Sept. 6.
A Paris semi-official message says: The enemy is destroying like vandals. When they have not time to burn down houses they remove the furniture and make great bonfires of it. They blow up the most important buildings, pillage everything, remove agricultural machinery and destroy everything else which they have not the time to remove. Nevertheless our advance on the forest of Concy was so rapid that the enemy had to abandon very large quantities of war material and important ammunition depots. The sight of such devastation ordered by the leaders of the German army kindles in our soldiers the determination to punish such crimes and they seem to know no fatigue in the pursuit.

German Fort lying the Frontier.

Amsterdam, Sept. 6.
The "Tyd" states that the Germans are at present very busy constructing fortifications on the Dutch-German frontier, near Moer, Noordbeek, and Steenken. It is believed that the Germans are making an extreme defence of the frontier for the contingency of being overthrown on the line of the Meuse.

German Brevity.

London, Sept. 6.
A German official message states: We stand in fighting contact with the enemy on the line of Amigny-Barisse, Laheux and Conue.

An Inglorious Week.

Amsterdam, Sept. 7.
The "Kreuz Zeitung" states that this last week forms no glorious page in the history of the German people. There has been a display of nervelessness for which one can only find mitigating circumstances.

The German expert, Ardene, in a laborious explanation of the German defeat admits that the Allies, particularly the British, have scored an undeniable success in pushing the German front to the Arras-Cambrai Road. He finds the excuse that the Germans have been fighting for 12 days were suffering from over fatigue, and loss of supplies. He expects that Marshal Foch will continue his harassing tactics in an attempt to envelop the German wings.

The British Advance.

London, Sept. 7.
Sir Douglas Haig reports: We further progressed east and north-eastward of Peronne and captured Montcourt, Sorel-le-Grand and Metzencourt. Northward of Metzencourt we penetrated the western portions of Havrincourt Wood where we prisoners a number. Northward of La Bassée Canal we gained ground in the German positions about Cantelieu and Violaines and further northward we carried out a successful minor operation between Hill 63 and Wulverghem, prisoners fifty and advancing the line a short distance in the direction of Messines.

The Navy's Hopes.

London, Sept. 7.
Sir Eric Geddes has telegraphed to Sir Douglas Haig his heartiest congratulations and admiration of the triumph and continued advance of the British Armies in France. He says the Navy is following every movement of the master strategy with admiration and pride and hope that it may also soon have a chance of renewing the example of the army at crushing the enemy.

A German Report.

London, Sept. 7.
A wireless German official message says: We repulsed several attacks southward of Ypres. On the Somme and the enemy followed us via Ham and Chauny. We are contacting with the enemy eastward of Vailly on the Aisne. We repulsed renewed American attacks on the heights north-eastwards of Fismes.

Important French Capture.

London, Sept. 7.
The French have advanced on a twenty mile front to an average depth of two miles and in places of four miles. They have occupied unopposed Terghier, a very important railway junction. The enemy has thereby lost his main line of communication between Leon and St. Quentin.

A French communique says: From the Somme to the Oise we continued our pursuit all night long, smashing the enemy's local resistance and keeping in close touch with his rearwards. On one side or the other of the Somme we occupied Piton, Sommettes, Haucourt, Dury and Ollezy. The last named is five kilometres east of Ham. Farther south we hold Cugny and have reached the western outskirts of Bois-de-Gentil. North of the Oise we have entered Terghier, east of which our line runs along the railway and canal. North of the Ailette the lower forest of Concy is entirely ours, also Barisse which was stormed despite the enemy's obstinate resistance. North of Quincybasse we passed the villages of Andlers and Bascolesauville. South of the Ailette Nanteuil-la-Fosse fort, Conde and Conde-sur-Aisne are in our hands. There is no change north of the Vesle.

OBITUARY.

Melbourne, Sept. 8.
The death is announced of Lord Forrest, former Commonwealth Treasurer, which occurred at sea while proceeding to England.
The death is also announced of Sir Ratan Tata.

GERMAN PEACE CHORUS.

Stockholm, Sept. 7.
The latest addition to the German Peace chorus is Herr Erzberger, the leader of the powerful Catholic Centre Party, which has hitherto been the most powerful Parliamentary supporter of the Militarists. Herr Erzberger, on being interviewed, declared that Germany did not desire world dominion. A military victory would only divide the world into two camps. He personally agreed with Earl Grey regarding a League of Nations, which must form part of future practical politics.

THE COTTON CROP.

London, Sept. 8.
Owing to the official estimate of the cotton crop being 11,127,000 bales as compared with 12,619,000 last month and 11,949,000 last year prices on the New York Cotton Exchange yesterday jumped 150 to 175 points in ten minutes. October selling was at 27.25 cents, final prices being about hundred points lower owing to profit taking.

EARLIER TELEGRAMS.

RUSSIAN AFFAIRS.

Some Disquieting Reports.

London, Sept. 7.
Disquieting reports are filtering out from Russia. It is stated that the whole British colony at Petrograd has been arrested. There have been numerous arrests at Moscow and the French Military Mission has been sacked and a number of Frenchmen arrested.

M. Lenin Weaker.

London, Sept. 7.
M. Lenin is weaker owing to an effusion of blood from the placenta. His assailant is dying as a result of ill treatment.

A Reign of Terror.

London, Sept. 7.
Apparently a Bolshevik reign of terror has been instituted at Moscow. An Amsterdam telegram from Moscow states that as a result of the decree issued on the 5th ordering the arrest of Social Revolutionaries, representatives of the bourgeoisie and ex-officers who are to be shot in the event of fresh anti-Bolshevik conspiracies many Social Revolutionaries have been arrested in Moscow also several high ecclesiastics who are alleged to be implicated in the "British conspiracy." Numerous executions are occurring. The Patriarch of Moscow is among those arrested.

THE HINDENBURG PROCLAMATION.

Copenhagen, Sept. 8.
The Hindenburg proclamation is a long and remarkable document. It attempts to discount the reproductions dropped by aeroplane of war prisoners' original letters describing their wellbeing by thanking God that exceptional cases of decent and humane English prison camp commanders exist. The proclamation asserts that Germany is strong enough to force peace in the West despite the Americans and engages in efforts to counteract the effect of the leaflets which it is stated have been dropped by aeroplane in thousands of copies. The proclamation abounds in references to the "poisonousness" of the enemy propaganda and winds up by saying "Whoever is England's ally dies in consequence."

ATTEMPT TO DESTROY GERMAN VESSELS.

Santiago de Chile, Sept. 8.
There is much indignation owing to a concerted attempt by the crews of the German ships in Chile, comprising 33 steamers and 57 sailing ships of a tonnage of 230,000 tons, to dynamite the ships and machinery. Quick action by the Naval authorities prevented the complete destruction of the vessels, but the engines of seven steamers were destroyed. Troops are now guarding the ships.

WAR AT SEA.

A German Warship Sunk.

Amsterdam, Sept. 7.
A German warship was seen to sink yesterday evening off the Dutch coast. Presumably she was mined or torpedoed.

U. S. Transport Torpedoed.

Washington, Sept. 7.
The homeward bound transport Mount Vernon, formerly the Kronprinzessin Cecilie, was torpedoed two hundred miles from France on Thursday. She afterwards reached port. There were no casualties.

The Navy Department announces that a submarine sank the two thousand ton American steamer Lake Owens by gunfire in foreign waters on the 3rd inst. Five of the crew are missing.

GERMAN NAVAL MUTINY.

London, Sept. 7.
Scandinavian newspapers give a sensational explanation of the mystery of numerous corpses of German sailors being washed up on the coasts. It is stated that the crews refused to go aboard submarines, seized four torpedo-boats and went at full steam for Norway. Other warships overtook them and a regular fight ensued, two torpedo-boats being sunk and the crews killed or drowned.

THE ITALIAN FRONT.

Rome, Sept. 7.
The French carried out a brilliant raid east of Asiago after a short but most violent artillery preparation. The enemy resisted desperately and suffered heavily, while the French had slight losses.

AMERICA'S DETERMINATION.

Washington, Sept. 7.
On the eight billion dollar War Revenue Bill being introduced into the House of Representatives there were enthusiastic scenes. The introducer declared that Americans were ready to surrender all their profits and income, over living expenses, to win the war.

YUYUAN COTTON MILL.

Reported Sale to Japanese.

The Japanese cotton spinning industry is extending its coils in China with a quick step, says the Japan Advertiser of August 25, which continues:—Following the purchase of the International Cotton Manufacturing Company by a group of influential spinners another purchase of a native mill at Shanghai is now announced. Thus Japanese spinners are having ten big mills at Shanghai beside their mills at Tientsin and Tsingtao.

The Yuyuan Cotton Mill Company at Shanghai is owned and managed by Chinese businessmen and operates 28,700 spindles. The Naigai Cotton Trading Company of Osaka, which already owns several mills at Shanghai, has made a contract for its purchase at Tls. 800,000. The company in view of the imminence of the new tariff being enforced in China has been planning the extension of its spinning business in that country for some time past but the difficulty of obtaining machines and equipment has prevented it so far from realizing its scheme. The present purchase has been evidently suggested by the purchase of the International Cotton Manufacturing Co. by Mr.

Juketaro Kawasaki from its British proprietors.

At Shanghai the Naigai Cotton Trading Co. started its mill in 1890 for the first time. The mill now runs 20,392 spindles and 270 looms. The second one was started in 1908 in which Tls. 2,000,000 were invested and which runs 25,480 spindles and 510 looms. In 1911 three more mills were started there. One runs 20,000 spindles, another 30,000 spindles and still another 60,000 spindles. In 1913 a bigger one was erected, but it is not yet in operation although it is intended to run 60,000 spindles. This year will see still another mill completed for the company at Shanghai. This mill will run 30,000 spindles and 6,000 looms.

At Shanghai the Godo Cotton Spinning Company has started the plan of a big mill and now its construction is under way, but it is said that it will be some time before its operations are started. At Tientsin a joint undertaking a cotton spinning mill and it is backed up by many well known firms in Japan. It is already in partial operation. The Naigai Cotton Trading Co. operates a big mill at Tsingtao. It was erected in 1911 and runs 20,000 spindles.

UNION INSURANCE SOCIETY OF CANTON, LTD.

Hon. Treasurers and Secretaries.

Health Return.

For the twenty-four hours ended on Saturday, there were notified two fatal cases of plague and two occurrences (one fatal) of spotted fever. All the sufferers were Chinese.

German Mission Dissolved.

At Joplin, Missouri, the German society has been dissolved and has given all its property, valued at $5990, to the Red Cross.

Explaining the action of the society, the officers said:—The object of the society was to advance German customs, German habits, and the German language. This, under the conditions that have arisen, is intolerable and impossible. Our countrymen cannot, will not, and should not be expected to countenance these objects now.

Wuhu Metal Imports.

The import of iron and mild steel bars into Wuhu during 1917 show a decrease of 118 piculs on the same quarter for the previous year, the totals being (1916) 323 piculs and (1917) 205 piculs.

During the same periods galvanised iron sheets showed a decrease of 237 piculs, the totals in this instance being (1916) 684 piculs and (1917) 347 piculs.

London Tin Quotations.

On July 27, London tin quotations were reported to be $388 10s. an advance of 40 over the previous figure, and since then the advance has continued until, on August 8, London quotations were given at $298 per ton. There has been a corresponding rise in Japanese prices, and on August 9 Singapore tin was quoted at Y.260 per picul. Bataavia at Y.255, and Hongkong at Y.252 for first quality and at Y.250 for second quality.

EMBEZZLEMENT CHARGE.

Employee of Jardine Matheson's Charged.

A Chinese assistant collector in the Comptroller Department of Messrs. Jardine, Matheson and Co., Ltd., was charged on remand at the Police Court this afternoon, before Mr. J. R. Wood, with embezzling the sum of $3,101.08, the property of the Company.

Inspector J. J. Watt prosecuted Mr. Ho Leung assistant comptroller in Jardine Matheson and Co., who was also present.

Lo Lin, a Chinese detective, said that on September 5, he was at Sam Chun Railway Station, waiting for the express train to come from Canton. He was there at about 19.45 a.m.

When the train came in he boarded it, and when in British territory he arrested the defendant by virtue of a warrant which he showed to the defendant.

The Sergeant Interpreter at the Central Police Station gave evidence that he had cautioned the defendant and taken down his statement.

Tsin Long-hing, a cashier in Jardine, Matheson and Company's Comptroller Department, gave evidence to the effect that the defendant had been in the firm's employ for about 10 years. He joined the firm as an office-boy and was then promoted to assistant shroff. On the date in question he was an assistant shroff. He could not say whether the defendant had deposited any security. He handed him $3,101.08 at 2.50 p.m. on June 17, which was the company's property. Witness, as well as the defendant, had counted the money. He had also handed the bank paying in book, which was produced in Court. The date on the paying book was altered by a European. When he witness had handed the paying in book to the defendant the whole sheet was there. The bottom slip was written identically by the same as the top one. He had the paying-in book and the money at the same time. Witness told the defendant to go at once to the Hongkong and Shanghai Bank, and pay the money to the credit of the Bombay Burmah Trading Corporation, for which Jardine, Matheson and Company are agents. He saw the defendant carrying the money and the book immediately after he had handed him the money. Usually he sent the No. 1 shroff to the bank, but occasionally he sent the defendant to pay in the money. On previous occasions when the defendant went to the bank he usually returned in about half an hour, bringing the paying-in book with him. On the date in question the defendant never came back. When the defendant failed to return he reported the matter to Mr. Ho Leung. Since that day the defendant had not returned to his duties. The paying-in book was sent back by parcel post to the office. He was not aware that the money was not paid into the bank. Lee Yu-nam was the man who usually received the paying-in book when the defendant returned to the office. Lee Yu-nam received the paying-in book two days after.

Further evidence was called, and the case is proceeding.

A Horseless Town.

A curious result of the shortage of horses in the country is an advertisement issued by the Urban District Council of Godel. All persons requiring the services of the fire brigade must send a pair of horses, equipped with harness (including long traces to draw the engine). The Council until recently relied on a motor to haul the fire-engine, but this has been sold for war work. For some months past the Council has been unable to contract for the hire of horses.

A SHANGHAI NUISANCE.

Abortive Raid on The "Wheel".

There was an abortive raid on The Wheel in the early hours of yesterday morning, but as the wily managers of Shanghai's Monte Carlo evidently anticipated the coming of the raiders, the latter found the erstwhile palace of "brilliantly dark and dreary, closed for the night and not a soul about save the N. O. Daily News of September 5.

Naturally, information about such things happening outside the Settlement is hard to get, but it appears that a force of Chapei police, backed up by military, visited the noted gambling institution with the intention of raiding the place in accordance with instructions given a fortnight ago to the military officer in charge of the district by General Lu Tung-hsiang, Military Commissioner of Shanghai.

The Wheel, however, was not actually raided, as the raiders found it closed and with no indication that gambling was going on. It is said that the raiding force numbered 800, a force sufficiently large to surround the place and prevent the escape of either employees or players, but the coop was empty, the birds flown.

It has been known for some time that the Consular Body, through the Senior Consul, has been pressing for some definite action against The Wheel, and the Bureau of Foreign Affairs had taken the matter up with Gen. Lu, with the result that that official has issued instructions to the commanding officer of the district to take steps to deal with the menace. Possibly what happened early yesterday morning was only a preliminary reconnaissance movement, the final outcome of which may seal the fate of The Wheel.

In this connection it is interesting to note that other resorts on the edge of the Settlement and in the jurisdiction of Chapei, the dives in North Saichuen Road Extension, are also to be dealt with by the Chinese authorities. These resorts, dance halls and bars, while in part fronting on municipally controlled roads are actually situated outside Municipal Police jurisdiction, the Settlement police being powerless to act, though the places are kept by foreigners.

On complaint made by Chinese residents of the neighbourhood, that nights were made unbearable by happenings in the roads and houses, a proclamation has been issued by the Chapei authorities that the places indicated, when bordering the Settlement, may continue existence only on condition that they comply with Chinese police regulations respecting such places, which are strict, if enforced.

No new places are to be allowed to open on the border line between Chapei and the Settlement. Licence fees are to be considerably increased for places wholly in Chinese territory and the Chief of Police is personally to supervise the issuance of all licences in future, instead of permitting underlings to issue them. As a further penalty, such places are to maintain, pay and feed, a policeman on duty in the place. If these regulations are really carried out, half these disreputable haunts will have to close.

London, September 3.

Meanwhile, though victory is certain, the end is not yet. The Germans are retreating, but cleverly, and they still have reserves to throw in. The German High Command intends to fall back on a shorter line, thereby economising in men and will fight a defensive war to the last limit.

YESTERDAY'S TELEGRAMS.

ALLIES SWEEPING FORWARD.

London, September 7.
Since yesterday our troops have advanced in places to a depth of over ten kilometres. We occupied the lower forest of Concy as far as Petit Baris, where the enemy abandoned considerable war material and munition depots.To the right, we hold the outskirts of Fresnes and Quincy Basse, the outskirts of Vaux Aillon, Molay Farm and Lefaux. We reoccupied our old trenches on the whole front north of the Aisne.
The Americans freely progressed in the region of Villers-en-Prayeres and Reillon.London, September 6.
A German official wireless message says:—We repulsed strong enemy attacks from the Neuville, Muescourt and Molians line.
From Peronne and over the Somme the enemy hesitatingly followed our rearguard. Between the Somme and the Oise the enemy pressed more keenly. We completed the freeing of ourselves between the Oise and the Aisne.

ALLIED LEAFLETS.

London, September 7.
General Hindenburg, in his Proclamation, states that 84,000 enemy leaflets were collected on the West Front during May, 127,000 during June and 300,000 during July. Many other leaflets were sent home by soldiers and circulated in Germany with the result that "thousands imbibe the poison and their resolve and hope of victory is removed."

HUMANITY'S VICTORY.

Paris, September 6.
A Havas message states:—Marshal Foch, replying to the congratulatory message from the Paris Municipality, writes as follows:—
"The German war is shattered and we shall continue our task of relentlessly pursuing the enemy."relent the re-opening of the French Chamber yesterday, great manifestations of a sacred union occurred. At the opening sitting, the President, M. Dauchez, gave an address in which he paid homage and expressed admiration and gratefulness to the armies which, he said, are saving the honour of the human family. The President foreshadowed the Allies' friendship as being as everlasting in peace as in war, because free peoples are founding together a new order of things. Owing to the sublime valiance of those who give their lives by immolation of the dead who fight with the living, man during these sacred hours is stepping over the longest stage he has ever effected on the bloody path of justice.M. Clemenceau associated the Government with homage to the Allies, promising them immortal remembrance of their fellow-soldiers. He said:—"We shall fight till the end to build a new monument of justice. We want France's and the Entente's victory to be that of humanity. It is a beautiful task. The continuation of that work belongs to our survivors."The whole Chamber, including the Socialists, cheered frantically. M. Surcouf claimed the bill-posting of the two speeches, which represent, he observed, the unanimous sentiments of the country. This was voted by the raising of hands.

THE NORTH RUSSIAN FRONT.

London, September 6.
A British Northern Russian official message says:—After severe hand-to-hand fighting on the Archangel front, with the enemy led by Germans, the Allies occupied Obarkays, taking 150 prisoners and inflicting heavy losses. Our casualties were light.

NORWEGIAN SHIPPING LOSSES.

London, September 6.
Thirteen Norwegian vessels, with a tonnage of 23,000, were destroyed during August, owing to war causes.

U-BOAT WARFARE.

The Hague, September 6.
The Government has protested to Germany against the submarine destruction of vessels within the so-called barred zone and the sinking on August 24 of seven fishing vessels and the forcing of various skippers to sign a declaration the contents of which were unknown to them. It requests the return of the goods taken from the fishing vessels.BOLSHEVIST AMBASSADOR
ARRESTED.London, September 7.
The Bolshevik Ambassador
Litvinoff has been arrested as a hostage until the British representatives detained by the Bolsheviks are set at liberty and allowed to proceed to the Finnish frontier unmolested.

A PATRIOTIC ACT.

London, Sept. 6.
The Prudential Insurance
Company has purchased
£2,000,000 worth of War Bonds in the celebration of the breaking of the Hindenburg Line, which is sufficient to fully equip a force of 20,000 men.Printed and Published for the Proprietor, by George William Gide Barnett at 11, Lee Road, S.W. in the City of London.
